

Spares Information

Feedback is welcomed; Any information, i.e. other sources of spares, would be good to share.

This is a list of suggested contacts for various parts and services. The club takes no responsibility for providing this information which is given purely on an informative basis. The web sites listed are not connected with VVC (UK) LIMITED.

Historically the club held the remaining factory spares for the models produced by Douglas. The stock of engine spares for the 125cc models produced prior to 1959 were particularly extensive, all of this has now been disposed of, any remaining saleable stock has been put in storage. Little of any value/use now exists.

GENERAL PARTS:

BILL DRAKE: 02380 617316 Small private dealer, seen at many parts fairs. Has superb Vespa knowledge and can often get bits. His philosophy is to keep Vespas on the road.

SCOOTER CENTER GmbH Germany. Very helpful people. They have a large catalogue of parts many suitable for older bikes. www.scooter-center.com

PIAGGIO VINTAGE PARTS Can be ordered from any Piaggio dealership although some cannot seemingly be bothered! Others are very helpful. You can also order direct on the web. 2009 Catalogue is available via this link. www.vespavintage.com

SCOOTERWORKS 02076 201421: Stock Scootopia parts. Usually have a container each month full of old Vespas and s/h parts. They like putting newer engines in old bikes so may have older engines for sale. You may be lucky.

BEEDSPEED: 08700 660393 Very good for basic parts that are common to older as well as PX range bikes. See Discounts page

SCOOTER EMPORIUM: 02073 752277 Also import old Vespas and put newer engines in. Worth asking for older engines and parts.

VESPA SPARES CO. Based in UK. Not tried this one myself but they have asked to go on our web site. Give them a try and let me know what the service/prices are like. At the check-out enter 'VVC' in the voucher code box. This will apply a 5% discount for orders over £50 and 10% for orders over 10%www. www.vespaspares.co.uk ROLLERLADEN Plenty of parts for older classic Vespas. www.rollerladen.com

VESPA -GS-TELLE-SHOP. GS 150 Parts. (Although the site also caters for GS160 & SS180) Mentioned by our Technical Team as a possible new source worth trying for that obscure part. www.delorto.uk www.vespa-gs-teile-shop/
